1- What is Y-PEER?
Y-PEER is a youth network using an integrated approach to educate young people with the active participation of young people themselves.

2- What does Y-PEER stand for?
Y-PEER stands for “Youth Peer Education Electronic Resources”, and is commonly referred to as “youth peer education network”.

3- When was Y-PEER created and by who?
Y-PEER was created by UNFPA (United Nations Fund for Population) in partnership with UNICEF (United Nations International Children’s Emergency Fund). Y-PEER was launched in 1999 and has branches in 36 countries.

4- What is Y-PEER’s mission?
Y-PEER aims to promote a healthy lifestyle through peer to peer approach and to empower young people to make responsible decisions.

5- What are Y-PEER’s topics of interest?
Y-PEER was established to support, provide information and train young people on number of issues, in particular sexual and reproductive health issues.

6- What is special about Y-PEER?
Y-PEER training techniques are tailored to the needs of young people and based on interactive methods, including music, films and theater.

7- Why to join Y-PEER?
Y-PEER is unique opportunity to benefit from valuable training sessions and workshops, attend national, regional and international events and build a strong network of highly engaged youth and brilliant experts.

8- What is Y-PEER’s structure?
The Global Advisory Board (GAB) is the highest decision making body of the network which consists of the Focal Points in Charge of all the national networks.

International coordinators (ICs) are the official representatives of Y-PEER at the international level. ICs are coordinating the International Network and the execution of the annual action plan. Alumnis are previous International Coordinators that finished their term and form a consultative body.

International Fellows are based in international Y-PEER centers in Amman and Sofia and have the task of assisting ICs in the capacity building of the network.

9- How to join Y-PEER?
If a young person wants to join, she has to apply for a peer education session organized by Y-PEER in her country.
